This is one of the first fifteen hand built by jaguar at bloxham alongside the XJ220, only 124 examples were made, believed to be only 53 left, not to be confused with an early XJRS this was built by jaguar not TWR, The 1992 Jaguar XJRS 6.0 litre offered here has been subject to a major restoration over a 4-year period. The engine and gearbox were removed, along with front and rear axles, and all of these components received major attention. The engine benefited from a total high spec rebuild, including all ancillaries and radiator, and the gearbox was rebuilt with a new convertor. The front axle was very poor and therefore everything was replaced, including the front beam. All were new original where possible. The rear end had previous work done, so the mounts and suspension bearings were replaced, along with new radius arms. The wheels were sent for refurbishment. While this was all happening, the body shop clocked up 283 hours of labour including painting. The car was then fully reas...
